

God has worked miracles in my husband's life since he went through Calvary Ranch. He gave his life to Jesus and let God's will be done. The changes were evident as my husband shed his selfish ways and showed a positive improvement in not only his life, but his attitude as well. Once an uncaring father, Ken, now shows an interest in his kids' lives and took on the responsibility of a loving father. Our marriage took a complete turn as I went from the verge of divorce, to possessing a strong love for him as I had never before. Once unable to trust Ken at all, I now feel completely at ease sharing my life and concerns with him. After many years of putting up with the disorder my husband's drug use caused, our family, God has healed and forgiven us. I can honestly say that we are new creations in God.
